CAPITAL OVER 350,000 DOLLARS, AND CONSTANTLY INCREASING. The Charter of this Company offers more favorable advantages to the farmer and others, than any Company chartered in the State, by insuring Staunton, &c., and with the Train on the Manassas | with or without a premium note. If the applicant prefer, he can pay the full amount of the premium in each, or by effecting a cash insurance for two years, the insured saves one-eighth of the amount be would otherwise have to pay; or by becoming a member, and giving a small premium note, the in-ORLEANS, at the Ticket Office, corner of King ared saves nearly one-half of the amount charged Stock Companies, when insuring from year to year. This is the advantage resulting from the inbination of the

CASH AND MUTUAL PRINCIPLE. This Company commenced issuing Policies gainst loss or damage by fire, on the 13th day of March, 1854, since which time over seven thousand seven hundred persons have insured and become members of the Company, and over seventy thousand dollars have been paid for losses. Having increased our business during the past year, we feel grateful for the liberal patronage bestowed upon the Company thus far, and for its flattering prospeets of future usefulness. The Directors hope and believe, that, by prudence, caution, and a rigid system of economy, they will establish for this Company a reputation for cheapness and safety not surpassed by any Company in the U. States. All differences in settlement of losses, may be determined by three disinterested arbitrators of the County where such loss happened, to be mutually chosen by the insured and the Company.

LINES ON A SKELETON. Exactly forty years ago the London Morning Chronicle published a poem entitled, 'Lines on a Skeleton," which excited much attention. Every effort, even to the offering will be probable, so far as these cases are to discover the author. All that ever transpired was, that the poem, in a fair, clerkly hand, was found near a skeleton of CALCULATIONS.—We have been shown by remarkable beauty of form and color, in the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, ral examples of brief and rapid calculation Lincoln's Inn, London, and that the Curator of interest, per centage, and abbreviated of the museum had sent them to Mr. Perry,

Chronicle; Behold this ruin! 'twas a skull, Once of etherial spirit full; This narrow cell was life's retreat, This space was thought's mysterious seat: What beauteous visions filled this spot, What dreams of pleasure long forgot:

Nor Hope nor Love, nor Joy, nor Fear, Have left one trace of record here. Beneath this mouldering canopy Once shone the bright and busy eye; But, start not, at the dismal void-If social love that eye employed; If with no lawless fire it gleamed, But through the dew of kindness beamed,

That eye shall be forever bright, When stars and sun are sunk in night. Within this hollow cavern hung The ready, swift and tuneful tongue: If falsehood's honey it disdained, And where it could not praise, was chained; If bold in virtue's cause it spoke, Yet gentle concord never broke! This silent tongue shall plead for thee

When time unveils eternity. Say, did these fingers delve the mine? Or with its envied rubies shine? To hew the rock, or wear the gem, Can little now avail to them! But if the page of truth they sought, Or comfort to the mourner brought, These hands a richer meed shall claim,

Than all who wait on health or fame. Avails it whether bare or shod, These feet the paths of duty trod? If from the bowers of ease they fled, To seek affliction's humble shed-If grandeur's guilty bribe they spurned, And home to virtue's cot returned, These feet with angel's wings shall vie, And tread the palace of the sky.

SUNDAY BELLS. Oh day of rest! the toiler's day! What true delight thou'rt sure to bring, Made but for man, they truly say, Why should these bells tumultuous swing? Day of Devotion! All the land, Hails with delight thy precious hours, Praises returning to the Hand, That rings no bell to wake its flowers. Refreshing silence reigns around,

The Angel Sleep, the Sweet Profound, The wearied limbs and head caress; Sharp, shrill, discordant, on the air Dire sounds are borne with dreadful peal Clanging and dinging in despair, Worn labor's slumber bound to steal. In rural homes where Father Time, By watch or clock is seldom known, 'Tis sweet to hear a Sabbath chime,

Or e'en a church bell's distant moan;

But here in town where every soul,

Dreams of repose the soul possess,

By habit knows the time o'day, We need no dreary dismal toll,-So take your Sunday bells away !
